

EDITOR'S NOTE

THE Association for the Journal of Religious History wishes to record its grateful appreciation of grants made by the Australian Humanities Research Council and the Sydney University Press in aid of the publication of the numbers of the Journal in 1964.

Articles accepted or in preparation for the numbers of the Journal in 1965 include the following: B. O'Dwyer on the problem of education in the Cistercian order; J. V. S. Megaw on Iona and Celtic Christianity; F. B. Smith on spiritualism in 19th century Victoria; G. Clarke on Minucius Felix; R. I. Jack on baronial religious patronage in 15th century England; Gwynne Jones on an aspect of religion and politics under the Restoration; Olive Wykes on Church and State in French education after 1905; J. P. Barber on evangelism and imperialism; J. McCristal, O.F.M., on El Greco and the Catholic Reformation. Reviewers will include A. Crown, N. S. Pollard, J. McCristal, O.F.M., R. M. Crawford, F. B. Smith, Crawford Miller, M. D. Stephen and A. Dougan.

The Editor wishes, on Mr. S. M. Ingham's departure from Sydney to take up a position at Monash University, to pay tribute to his work for the Journal as one of its Associate Editors from its foundation.
