1997 European Winter Conference on Plasma Spectrochemistry Gent, Belgium, January 12-17, 1997

The 1997 conference to be held at the University of Gent (Ghent), Belgium will feature developments in plasma spectrochemical analysis by inductively coupled plasma (ICP), dc plasma (DCP), microwave induced plasma (MIP) and glow discharge (GD) sources coupled to atomic emission or mass spectrometers. In addition current trends and future directions in novel sample introduction systems, plasma system automation, and software for data handling will be discussed by recognised world authorities, with emphasis on elemental speciation studies, high resolution ICP-MS spectrometry, accuracy of the results, quality assurance and industrial applications. The meeting will comprise oral and poster presentations, short courses and a five day exhibition of spectroscopic instrumentation and accessories.
